BRIEF SUMMARY

Dr. Diego Rivera has a Bachelor's degree in Psychology, a Master's in Public Health, and a PhD in Psychology. He has published 50 peer-reviewed articles in indexed JCR journals. He is editor of 3 books, and co-author of 34 book chapters, published by recognized publishing houses in Spain and Latin America. Dr. Rivera was a guest editor of a special issue in the journal NeuroRehabilitation.

Dr. Rivera has coordinated international studies and expanded his research lines via collaboration with national and international colleagues from Europe, the USA, Latin America, and India. For example, he and his colleagues carried out a multi-center study with 12.000 participants from 30 cities in 12 Latin American countries and Spain. In this study, normative data was provided for 13 commonly used Spanish-language neuropsychological tests in children and adults. Previously, clinicians and researchers used the English-language norms (as no Spanish-language norms were available), despite evidence that language and culture influenced performance. These Spanish language norms were published in 2 special issues and 3 books. Also, Dr. Rivera and colleagues designed an online survey to gather data related to the state-of-the-art of training, practice, teaching, research, and ethics of neuropsychologists. Through a large network of international contacts, versions of this survey have been translated into 10 languages and carried out in over 40 different countries. Results have been published in JCR journals and presented at relevant conferences.

In addition, Dr. Rivera headed the Scientific and Organizational Committees of two Iberoamerican Congresses of Neuropsychology – one in Bilbao (2016) and one in Almeria (2018). The first conference was the first time that Spanish-speaking researchers, clinicians, professors, and students from Spain, Portugal, and Latin America met to advance the field of neuropsychology. There were more than 40 international speakers and 15 regional and national speakers. More than 1300 participants from more than 20 countries attended. The second conference was hosted by the University of Almeria gathered over 700 attendees.

Regarding teaching, Dr. Rivera has been invited to give 82 lectures at universities in Europe, the USA, and Latin America. He has taught post-graduate classes in masters and doctoral level psychology programs in Spain and Latin America. Dr. Rivera has received recognition from organizations in Colombia, the USA, and Spain. In 2017, he received The Regional Colombian Psychology Award from the Colombia Psychological Society. In 2014, he was awarded the Student Diversity Poster Award from the National Academy of Neuropsychology. He received a full-scholarship from the University of Deusto (Spain) for his doctoral studies and an additional scholarship for a 3-month internship at Virginia Commonwealth University in the USA. Dr. Rivera have proficient computer user of statistical software processing and graphing programs (e.g., SPSS, R, and Python) and Business analyst and project management skills.

EDUCATION

Bachelor's Degree in Mathematics (October 2018 - actually: part time). National Distance Education University (UNED), Spain.

Big Data and Business Intelligence Programme (2018). University of Deusto, Bilbao, Spain. Course 1: Introduction to Big Data and Data quality, and Course 2: Technology and Development in Big Data.

Ph.D. in Psychology (2013 – 2016). University of Deusto, Bilbao, Spain. Title of Thesis: A Normative study of the Modified Wisconsin Card Sorting Test, Trail Making Test, and Hopkins Verbal Learning Test- Revised in Colombian Population. Director: Juan Carlos Arango Lasprilla, Ph.D. Co-director: Paul B. Perrin, Ph.D.

Master's in Public Health (2008 - 2013). Faculty of Medicine, Universidad Nacional de Colombia. Bogotá, Colombia. Title of Thesis: Factores de riesgo y factores protectores asociados a los signos de depresión en población activa de la Policía Nacional de Colombia [Risk factors and protective factors associated with signs of depression in working population of Colombia National Police]. Director: Fernando Pio de la Hoz Restrepo, Ph.D.

Bachelor's degree in Psychology (2000 - 2006). Universidad Surcolombiana. Neiva, Colombia. Title of Thesis: Evaluación y aplicación de un programa de rehabilitación neuropsicológica en atención selectiva y atención sostenida para sujetos diagnosticados con esquizofrenia tipo paranoide residentes en la unidad de salud mental del Hospital Hernando Moncaleano Perdomo de la ciudad de Neiva [Evaluation and application of a neuropsychological rehabilitation program for selective and sustained attention for patients diagnosed with paranoid-type schizophrenia in the Mental Health Unit of Hernando Moncaleano Perdomo Hospital in Neiva]. Director: Silvia Leonor Olivera Plaza, Msc.

INTERNSHIPS

Internship in Virginia Commonwealth University - VCU (March 1st - June 1st, 2015). Department of Psychology. Virginia. Tutor: Paul B. Perrin, Ph.D.

Internship in University of Barcelona (March 3 – 10, 2014). Grup de Tècniques Estadístiques Avançades Aplicades a La Psicologia - GTEAAP. Training in techniques of Multivariate Analysis for the creation of normative data in neuropsychological tests. Tutor: Joan Guàrdia-Olmos, Ph.D.

Internship in University of Granada (February 10 – 15, 2014). Training in Rasch Analysis. Tutor: Alfonso Caracuel Romero, Ph.D.

Internship in Virginia Commonwealth University - VCU (November 27 – December 12, 2011). Department of physical medicine and rehabilitation of school of medicine. Virginia. Tutor: Juan Carlos Arango Lasprilla, Ph.D.

SPECIAL AWARDS AND HONORS

- 2018. Surcolombiana University. Award for the best graduate student of Surcolombiana University. Neiva, Colombia.
- 2017. Colombian College of Psychologists (Huila-Amazonia). Winner of the Regional Award of Psychology. Neiva, Colombia.
- 2015. University of Deusto. Scholarship for three-months research internship during PhD program “Ayudas para estancias en centros distintos al de aplicación del Programa Predoctoral de Formación de Personal Investigador” Bilbao, Spain.
- 2014. National Academy of Neuropsychology. Winner of Student Diversity Poster Award. Fajardo, Puerto Rico.
- 2012. University of Deusto. Predoctoral scholarship “Ayudas Formación Profesional para Investigadores –F.P.I.” Bilbao, Spain.
- 2006. Colombian Psychological Society. Student Award. Medellín, Colombia
